

KAIMIN KHAW

Kaimin Khaw is a senior sovereign analyst in the macro strategies group at Loomis Sayles Investments Asia Pte. Ltd. He contributes to the generation of economic research and investment ideas. Kaimin covers Asia, Australia and New Zealand. He joined Loomis Sayles in 2017 as a research associate, was promoted to sovereign analyst in 2018 and to senior sovereign analyst in 2021. Previously, Kaimin was a sovereign risk analyst at Goldman Sachs in Singapore. Prior to his career in finance, he taught economics at Raffles Institution. Kaimin earned a Bachelor of Social Sciences in Economics from the National University of Singapore.