

Jae Park

Jae Park is an executive vice president and chief investment officer at Loomis, Sayles & Company. He is also a member of the firm's Board of Directors. Previously, Jae was chief investment officer for the fixed income group. He joined Loomis Sayles in 2002 after spending more than 21 years with the IBM Corporation. Most recently, Jae was director of fixed income investments, responsible for the management and performance of $22 billion in fixed income and cash assets for the IBM Retirement Fund. He also oversaw the strategy and implementation of non-US funds invested in local fixed income markets, as well as global fixed income hedged to different currencies. Jae is a graduate of Cornell University and earned an MBA from Columbia University.